Beach Road Project

Pay Freeze Put On Contractor

Hancock County supervisors took definite action at a Monday meeting to expedite completion of the beach road project.

Beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner pressed for seizure of contractor Don Breland's equipment until the road is completed, but board attorney Sam Favre said necessary legal action would take months and would be infeasible.

Larry Seal, county engineer, told the board that he had called B. L. Broome in the State Road Aid Div. on the matter. Thursday, Broome advised him that the most effective method would be to hold any further progress payments to Breland until the job was completed.

Board president Dolph Keller reminded the supervisors that under U.S. Bureau of Public Roads regulations, once a contractor has moved equipment onto a job he can not then remove it without authorization of the county engineer.

Seal reported that some $25,000 had been accrued from the 10 percent of Breland's money which the County has withheld for payment of liens filed against Breland, which to date are in excess of $27,000, he stated.

Seal further stated that Breland had only some asphalt work, linear grading, and a few incidentals left to complete the job and if he would work at a consistent pace the road could be finished in a few days.

A motion was passed to write the Bureau of Public Roads to hold all further payments to Breland until the road is 100 percent completed and accepted by the county board and the bureau. Seal was also authorized to notify Breland in writing that no equipment will leave the beach road until completion of the project.

In an unrelated matter, supervisors passed a motion to contact the Mississippi Research and Development Center requesting a feasibility study on a possible central unit system for Hancock County, in line with the Miss. Economic Council's recent recommendations to all state county governments. A related motion was recorded to ask the state legislature to provide a public referendum.

Dr. Kinsey Stewart, director of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Clinic, approached the board for increased millage support for the Center, which he said services a three county area.

The Center has relied heavily in the past on federal support and funding, but a 15 percent cutback in 1972 has made the Center more dependent on local funding, as no money is received from the state, Dr. Stewart explained.

Harrison county has provided total funding for the Center's new building in Gulfport and help is needed from Hancock to increase the staff to reach outlying areas. Stewart appealed to supervisors to consider a one mill allocation for the Center which would bring about $32,000 per year.

Dr. Ray Cox, Center psychologist assigned to Hancock County as counselor, described his work in this county. In the last year, Cox said, 74 cases were handled in psychotherapeutic referrals, 15 children were tested under retardation-referrals and 186 children received counseling or related attention.

The board would consider the matter, Keller said, but no action was taken.

In other business, the board adopted a resolution for the establishment of a consolidated Civil Defense operational center to include county, Bay St. Louis and Waveland C.D. operation. The resolution called for the Operational Center to be located in Valena C. Jones building, site of the present Bay St. Louis C.D. headquarters. In addition an executive committee will be formed composed of representatives from each municipality and the county.

Cost of the consolidation will be funded entirely by the county on a millage basis, and will be referred to as the Bay-Waveland Hancock County Civil Defense Organization. A Civil Defense administrator will still be retained by each city and the county to coordinate activities in his area of jurisdiction.

Youth Center Closed After Teen Fracas

Activities at the Bay St. Louis Youth Center have come to a halt following a Friday night fracas between black and white teenagers.

About 60 white boys tangled with some 25 or 30 black youths shortly after 10 p.m. despite Bay police efforts to disperse the crowd.

According to Bay Police Chief William Carbonette, the incident started inside the Jaycees-operated Center during a teen dance, when a white boy made an insulting remark to a black one at the coke counter.

Bay Patrolman Emmitt Ellis, on duty at the dance, Carbonette and Asst. Chief Douglas Williams attempted to intercede with the teenagers who poured out of the dance to argue in the junior high school yard across the street.

Ignoring police directions to return to the Center peacefully, several whites jumped a black boy and pandemonium resulted. The three policemen managed to break up the fight within minutes, Carbonette said; but not before several youths received minor injuries.

No arrests were made by the police; however, one white youth has brought assault and battery charges against five blacks, two of whom had been arrested by Wednesday.

Assisting Bay police were Sheriff's Deputies Ronald Peterson, Paul Bernard, Willie Lee, Robert Tavoule, and Waveland Ptlm. Eugene Hughes and Ronald Ferrell.

Some weeks ago, the Youth Center had been condemned as a fire hazard by the Bay Fire Dept. and Jaycees have begun a drive to construct a new building.

Bay St. Louis Council Bids Open For Equipment Barn

Bids were opened at a Monday Bay St. Louis city council meeting for the construction of a metal equipment storage building, to be located at the rear of Valena C. Jones building.

Of the five companies submitting bids, J.W. Puckett was the lowest with a total bid of $16,480. Other bids were received from Crown Constr. for $17,480; Southern Structures, Inc.,

17,688; T.D. Ashman, $19,749; Marina Engineering and Constr., Inc., $20,926. All bids were taken under advisement for further study by the council.

Also taken under advisement was an invoice from engineer James Chinche in the amount of $3,350 for past engineering services to design five roads for overlay. Chinche's cost estimate of the total job exceeded the council's allocation for the project, Commissioner Lucien Kidd stated.

A motion was accepted to advertise for bids to purchase a 1,000 gallon pumper for the fire department in conformance with state fire inspector's recommendations to lower the city's fire insurance rating.

In an unrelated action, the council unanimously passed a motion adopting a resolution for the consolidation of a central city-county Civil Defense Organization. The consolidated operation, referred to as the Bay-Waveland Hancock County Civil Defense Organization, would be located in present city Civil Defense headquarters in Valena C. Jones building.

The council passed a resolution favoring granting oil and gas leases of certain tracts situated in federal waters of the Gulf bordering on the states of Mississippi, Alabama and Florida. The action was taken as the city felt past oil and gas operations in the Gulf had "no appreciable effect on the natural environment of the Gulf Waters."

Waveland Resolves Fireworks Controversy

Controversy over the sale and discharge of fireworks in Waveland was resolved for the time being by passage of an ordinance at a Tuesday night meeting of the city council.

In a discussion of the matter prior to accepting the motion for ordinance, city attorney Lucien Gex explained to aldermen that state statutes allow the discharge of fireworks in a city anytime and anywhere except within 600 feet of a church, hospital or school. Municipal governing bodies have the right to amend the state law any way they choose, Gex added.

Provisions of the ordinance adopted Tuesday night restricted the shooting of fireworks to private property and on the south side of the beach road, and to certain stipulated dates.

A present ordinance on the subject was amended to qualify the sale and discharge of fireworks only on the following dates; June 15 through July 5, December 5 through January 2, and from five days prior to Labor Day through the day after Labor Day.

In addition, anyone wishing to sell fireworks must make application of the ordinance.

Witnesses to the accident told Hester that Benefield had apparently stopped but entered the intersection in the path of the approaching automobile.

Benefield's wife, the only other passenger in the Chevrolet, was killed instantly in the resultant crash and was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis. Mr. Benefield was taken to Hancock General in critical condition and died about two hours later from injuries received in the accident.

The Wilson woman was treated at Hancock General for lacerations and later released. The seven-year-old boy, Charles E. Wilson, 19 Jana Dr., Monroe, La., was riding in the front seat of the Oldsmobile and was also taken to the hospital in critical condition with a crushed face. He was later transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital for further treatment. His brother Paul, 13, who was riding in the back seat of the car, was treated at Hancock General for possible fractures of the leg.

In an August 2 issue story of a gambling raid in a Bay St. Louis bar, Edwin Crawley was listed erroneously as having been arrested with 13 other men in the raid on the Cozy Corner Bar. Mr. Crawley was actually booked on that date for assault and battery in an unrelated case. A warrant issued for Mr. Crawley's arrest on those charges had no connection with the bar incident.

Concerning Phase IV, Stakem reminded sellers and consumers that prices may be increased only to reflect increases in cost of merchandise. "A merchant may raise his prices only for the amount of increase he is charged. He may not increase prices to cover increases in his overhead -- such as wages, utilities, or rent, or to increase his profit margin."

Stakem asked for continued support of the Stabilization Program by both sellers and consumers. "If merchants have questions about Phase IV, they should call us. Likewise, if a consumer has questions, or if he believes he is being charged an illegal price, he should also call us. "During the price freeze," Stakem said, "IRS agents conducted 451 investigations of alleged violations. In all of these cases, the sellers were either in compliance with freeze regulations or voluntarily rolled back their prices."

U.S. Coast Guard Open To Applicants

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U. S. Coast Guard, Class of 1978.

Appointments to the Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 1973, and candidates must arrange to participate in the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude (SAT) test prior to or including the December 1973 ad-

The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, his performance on the CEEB Scholastic Aptitude Test, and his leadership potential as demonstrated by his participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1974. The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma; however, high school seniors assured of graduation by June 30, 1974, are eligible to compete if provided they have at least 15 credits by that time. Applicants must have completed three units in English and three in mathematics, including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill the basic physical and moral requirements.

Coast Guard cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal cost and, in addition, receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses.

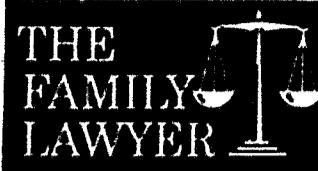

The constantly updated Academy curriculum offers liberal arts, engineering, and professional subjects, with a choice of thirteen academic options which include: general, ocean, marine, electrical, nuclear and civil engineering, mathematics; computer science; ocean science; physics; chemistry; history-government; and economics-management.

These areas of academic interest, combined with the varied elective course, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career.

Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensign in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training in many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law, naval architecture, and oceanography.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing to: Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320.

G.I. Students To Get Checks Faster

A new Veterans Administration computer program to speed checks to G.I. Bill students is expected to become operational next month.

In announcing the new "one-stop" service, Merlin J. Cook, Assistant Director for Regional Office in the Jackson VA Center, explained that when VA receives separation papers (DD-214) from the military, VA computers will automatically generate a package of papers to veterans. These include an application for education or training and a form for schools to use to certify enrollment.

Previously, each of these was a separate step for students or schools.

The package also will tell veterans their remaining G.I. Bill eligibility time, about counseling and tutorial services, how to apply for educational assistance, and about courses that may be selected for training.

Cook said that under this new concept, veterans can complete the application and present it to school officials at the time of registration. The school, in turn, will complete the enrollment portion and forward the entire package to VA for processing. The first benefit checks should be received shortly thereafter. When veterans request advance payment on the application forms, checks will be waiting at the institution for delivery to them upon registration.

Schools with approved courses for veterans have been notified of the new form and procedure.

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir,
My husband and I and another couple traveled through your town on our vacation this summer. Before we left, we spent a few hours on your lovely beach. Upon reaching our next destination, I discovered that my purse had accidentally been left behind. This was very heart breaking due to the fact that it contained a large sum of money, credit cards, and our checkbook.

Upon my return home, I received a call informing me that my purse had been found by your city police and was being returned to me. Your town has a very reliable and honest police force which you should be very proud of.

I am definitely very grateful for their trustworthiness and professional attitude. I especially thank Chief of Police William Carbonette who corresponded with me.

Sincerely,
Gail Baughman
64 Archer
Springfield, Ill.

Dear Sir:
Last week I wrote a letter to you which was much too long. I trust this one will be more brief. In my attempt to explain the series of events which led to the current status of air-conditioning of the Courthouse, I quoted or appeared to quote statements made by the Sheriff to the Supervisors concerning certain impractical solutions as a result of his investigations.

Sheriff Ladner has informed me that he made no such report and I cannot now remember how I received this information. I did not have any personal knowledge of such a report. In any event, it appears that I have given erroneous information which reflects badly on Sheriff Ladner. For this I apologize.

I have never at any time felt or intended to imply that the Sheriff has acted in any manner other than in the best public interest.

Sincerely,
Fred Wagner

Dear Sir:
I would like to take this opportunity to draw attention of the public to an incident which occurred at the St. Clare Parish Fair on August 4.

A young unidentified girl rushed up to a child and quickly deposited a young puppy in the latter's arms, stating words to the effect that "you can have him, we don't want him anymore". Then this girl disappeared into the crowd.

Naturally, the recipient of this half starved, bewildered animal was at a loss as to what to do with the unmasked and unwanted puppy. Fortunately, the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., was on hand, representing one of the booths in the fair. The dog was brought to them, announcements were put out on the P.A. system and every effort was made to find the girl who had so unmercifully passed her responsibility on to an innocent child in such an irresponsible manner. Naturally, the search was unsuccessful. The dog warden, Mr. Ory Bourgeois was present and arrangements were being made to take the little victim to the pound.

At this point, the vice-president of the Society informed the members of the police department of the incident. Officer Terry Holmes of the Waveland Police Department very kindly and humanely offered to give the puppy a good home and save him from the pound trip. For this we are very grateful to Officer Holmes and thank him sincerely.

Now, these are some cold, hard facts that not too many of our citizens know. The days are long gone when a person in the State of Mississippi can use a crowd of people or any other kind of diversion, as a dumping ground for unwanted animals. We have in the Bay-Waveland area, two good pounds, as well as two fine dog warden.

Bay St. Louis residents are to call Mr. Gus Mitchell at 467-9221; Waveland residents are to call Mr. Ory Bourgeois at 467-7653, for assistance with animal problems. The Bay St. Louis number is the police department where calls are accepted for Mr. Mitchell. His home number is 467-9440. So although the programs relative to animals are in the forming stages in both cities, help is still available. There is no reason whatsoever to abandon any animal.

But for those who insist upon treating animals as if they possess no feelings, the State of Mississippi has other means of convincing them, and the Humane Society is ready and willing to assist in carrying out these persuasions. They are entitled "CRIMES & MISDEMEANORS - MISSISSIPPI STATE ANTI-CRUELTY LAWS PERTAINING TO ANIMALS". The young girl who so thoughtlessly left that young puppy with the child could be charged with a violation of Section No. 2088 ABANDONING OF ANIMALS under these laws. This violation carries on conviction a fine of "not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than one hundred days or both". Would it not be better for citizens to simply call the proper authorities, or go to the pounds rather than the other route?

We ask for the cooperation of the public so that episodes such as the one described will not recur.

Sincerely,
BAY-WAVELAND HUMANE

Dear Sir:
Just want to make a few comments on Letters To Reader's Column, in your issue of 8-2-73. Donald Decker's letter was very interesting and factual. Mr. A.C. Mercier's letter calls for legal and political action along with some human kindness: man's inhumanity to man in the sunset of their lives is more poignant and shameful, than at any other time.

Officers who arrest 85 yr. olds, or even all Senior Citizens, who are seeking wholesome recreation, should be ashamed. With all the serious crimes so prevalent today, why pick on defenseless, harmless old people, who have so few of life's pleasures, in their declining years. If there is a law, let's repeal it. A Permit should not be required of any one over 80 yrs, and youngsters who love to fish; with parental consent.

Now in commenting on my own letter in RE: O.S.H.A. in second paragraph you placed the word(sic) in brackets, beside the lines enquote, "Believe(sic) me we are going that route now". It is used to mark an error, and I realized I made the error by using the name Stalin, when I should have written Lenin, instead.

I thank you for denoting the correction, but a lot of people have inquired of me as to what it meant.

I hope I haven't bothered you too much, but I wished to clarify this for those who didn't understand.

Very sincerely,

Mrs. Eleanor E. McFie
Waveland

ED NOTE: Sorry, you're wrong again. Last week's (sic) meant you misspelled "believe" and it was not the paper's error. Sic on me because I didn't catch the Stalin-Lenin switch!

NO ESCAPE*Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

Some people just never seem to mind asking for caviar while the rest of the family faces an enforced diet of biscuits and gravy.

The Commission is a blue ribbon panel of nine members appointed by the President, Congress and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Established by Congress in 1967, it makes recommendations every four years.

The most recent recommendations went to the White House just before June 30, but no action has yet been reported. The President, who is free to adjust the salary recommendations, must include the figures when he submits the administration's budget for congressional approval.

Congress then has 30 days in which to reject the proposal, with a simple majority in either the House or the Senate sufficient to kill it. If no move is made to reject the plan, it becomes law immediately.

Apparently unmoved by the fear of voter reaction, the House recently refused even to consider a Senate-passed bill that would have paved the way for action on the raise this fall rather than in election year 1974. The measure would have required the President to submit the salary proposal to Congress by Aug. 31.

I am unalterably opposed to a pay raise at this time. In fact, I have introduced a bill which would require Congressmen to vote on any raise in pay. Under the present system, Congress can accept pay hikes by simply not acting after a Commission makes recommendations.

I also joined several colleagues in sending a letter to the President, urging him to reject all such congressional pay raises at this time.

"This country needs to practice fiscal restraint - now more than ever," the letter read. "By holding the line on salaries for top-level bureaucrats, Members of Congress and Judges, you can provide positive evidence that this administration means business."

To think of increasing our pay when others are asked to sit tight is beyond question at this time. We must resist the temptation to fatten our own paychecks when our economy is still on thin ice.

One of my colleagues probably said it best when he described this untimely attempt as "cynical politics at its worst." I will go a step further and add that it is a "greedy" piece of legislation, one which I will continue to resist.

VA Report

Information on how to get G.I. education allowance checks sooner is being mailed to prospective students by the Veterans Administration. Merlin J. Cook, VA Assistant Center Director for Regional Office, pointed out today that starting August 1, advance payments covering the first month or portion of month of training, plus the succeeding month, can be made in most cases.

Cook said the new payment system can make funds available to trainees before they actually start classes this fall; however, the veteran students must apply for the advance payments and should do this now to be sure checks will be waiting at the school when they enroll.

He explained that advance payments are available to persons who plan to enroll in institutions at least a one-half time basis. Servicemen will receive lump sum advance payments for the entire term, quarter or semester.

Current trainees who apply for advance payments must first notify schools that they plan to reenroll in the fall. After schools complete forward reenrollment certificates to VA, the agency will mail checks to schools. Checks will be delivered to trainees at time of registration, but not earlier than 30 days before beginning of enrollment periods.

Cook also explained that when an eligible person planning to enter training for the first time applies for advance payment, he should notify VA that he has been accepted by a school. The same procedure should be followed by trainees who plan to change schools.

Q—I am a veteran living in a state which has no burial space left in its national cemetery. Will the Veterans Administration pay anything toward the cost of a burial plot in a private cemetery?

A—Yes. Public Law 93-43 (June 18, 1973) allows VA, starting August 1, to pay up to $150 in plot and interment costs of veterans who die on or after that date, and are not buried in a national cemetery.

Q—The Veterans Administration turned down my disability claim, and I'd like to contest the decision. How can I do this?

A—You may appeal it to the VA Board of Veterans Appeals, appearing in person, or having someone or an organization represent you.

LAND FORMING

Land forming and irrigation can greatly improve farming efficiency. Land forming improves water intake, prevents excessive erosion and allows you to irrigate, cultivate and apply chemicals precisely.

Areas that are to be formed this fall should be harvested as early as possible. Soil samples should be taken as soon as land forming has been completed to find out any special fertility requirements. Never make deep cuts that will expose unproductive soils.

GET READY FOR HARVEST

Clean weeds out of fields to give the crops a better chance to produce and to make for easier harvesting.

Get your cotton pickers and combines in top condition. Do not wait until harvest season is here before getting your machinery in order.

Get your turnrows ready. If you plan to disk the turnrows, do it now so that the land will have time to settle and firm up before harvest. Instead of disk, you might want to clip closely with a rotary mower, use chemicals or scrape the area with a blade.

WINTER GRAZING

Right now is the time to get busy to help insure good early winter grazing. Select the area that you are going to plant and begin fallowing now. Continue the fallowing through August, disk several times during the period. This will allow the soil to take up and store more moisture. It will also help remove competing grasses and weeds.

Take soil samples to find out if lime is needed. Apply it during the fallowing period between diskings so that the lime will become thoroughly mixed with the soil.

SILAGE HARVESTING

The silage you feed next fall and winter will be no better than what you put into the silo. One common mistake is harvesting silage too early. This early harvesting when moisture is too high causes excessive runoff, poor fermentation and loss of nutrients.

Corn should be cut for silage when grain moisture is around 35 percent and the grain is fully dent. Total plant moisture should be around 70 percent. Sorgum should be cut when the grain moisture is 30 percent and the grain is in the hard dough state. Total plant moisture should be around 70 percent or slightly less.

IF THESE TWO LINES MEET, WE'RE ALL IN TROUBLE

Keeping everybody supplied with electricity keeps us busy. So that you're sure to have electricity when and where you need it, we have to think ahead almost eight years — that's how long it takes to find the right site for a power plant, obtain approvals from regulatory agencies, construct the plant, and get it "on the line."

It's a fact of modern life that electricity adds comfort and convenience to our homes, runs office and factory equipment, keeps vital transportation and communications systems going; helps grow, store and deliver food; and is cleaning up the environment through recycling, monitoring and filtering processes. And electricity will be called on to do even more in the years ahead.

As long as your electrical needs and our population keep growing, Mississippi Power Company has to keep building to insure that an adequate supply of electric power will continue to be available.

Bay All-Star Girls No. One In Gulf Coast Invitational

The All-Star squad from the Bay St. Louis girls softball program traveled to Long Beach last weekend and captured the first place crown in the Gulf Coast Invitational tournament for girls from 9 to 12 years old.

The girls won the title in competition with eight teams through two days of a rough double-elimination play.

The team was chosen from some 95 girls participating in the Parks and Playgrounds summer softball program for girls.

Coached by Donny Caldwell and Joe Paul, the girls met a tough St. Ann team in the opening round. The Bay stars overcame early jitters to defeat St. Ann, 10-6 in extra innings. From there the girls went on to play the host Long Beach club. In another cliff hanger Bay St. Louis won, 5-4.

This placed the team in the finals of the winners bracket to be played Sunday at noon.

After a three-hour rain delay on Sunday that game finally began. The Bay bats did not produce as the girls took their first loss of the tournament, 3-1, to Ollies Beauty Shop.

Falling into the losers bracket the girls met St. Ann again. This time Bay St. Louis won 5-3 in still another close game. This victory threw the now tiring squad into the finals of the tournament against the only team they had lost to, Ollies.

The Bay squad with one defeat, had to defeat Ollies twice in succession now to secure the first place title.

The girls seemed to get stronger instead of weaker as they defeated the Ollies team, 8-5. This brought it all down to one more game, and in that game those same Bay bats came alive to mau Ollies, 12-4.

Coaches Caldwell and Paul lauded all the girls on the squad for their untiring play throughout the two-day competition. They pointed out the pitching of Pam Favre, flawless defense of Linda McCarthy and batting and running of Janet Shepard as keys to victory.

Team members were: Pam Favre, Arlene Whavers, Laurie Lanoux, Ann McCarthy, Tracee Rhodes, Linda McCarthy, Lydia Labat, Janet Shepard, Rochelle Bell, Robin Price, Michelle Benoit, Tracy Ladner, Robin Corr, Sheri Davis, Linda Butler and Laverne Lanoux.

A QUEEN IS CROWNED with fresh flowers in ceremonies last week marking the end of a successful Little League season. Above, Pam Favre, 1973 Little League Queen, is crowned by 1972 Queen Robin Corr. The queen's escort, Ricky Manieri, stands by.

GALLEY 57 - 4000 LINE AND ALL MAKES OF TV

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Had a little cooler weather over the weekend due to the North and Northeast winds which also helped fishing because of falling tides in the afternoons.

Bass and perch were hitting in most of the lakes here about. Due to local showers and some heavy rains most of the streams in the Pearl River area were a little muddy; however, Pearl River itself was clear. Bayous like Bogue Homen at Logtown, Parker's Bayou and were clear all the way to the head.

Bass and perch fishing has been good with the fish hitting surface baits on the fly rods and by casting. Speckle trout are being caught out in the Bay mostly down-by Bayou Caddy. They are mostly pan size, that is one pound and a pound and a half which make for good eating. They have been caught mostly by those fishermen who wade in the water and cast for them. The fish have been hitting Marlin, Shad Rigs, etc.

Those going out to the Marsh haven't been doing too hot lately.

Hard crabs have been giving pretty good. They are of nice size and full of meat. Did you know that hard crabs can be caught in local lakes just by scooping them up with a landing net? They are in the grass in shallow water.

Some beautiful perch, blue gills, goggle eye, crappie, etc., are being caught on the fly rod with small perch baits and by still fishing, using earth worms and small pieces of shrimp. Caught some the past week weighing a half pound. When using a fly rod work the bait unusually slow, on occasions they will hit it absolutely still. Perch fishing is a slow process. The slower one fishes, the better the results.

Jerome Carver, one of our best fly fishers, has celebrated his birthday on July 27th at Haverty's Restaurant. Lester Haverty presented him with a birthday cake. Jerome has passed the 80-year-old mark. Still going strong.

Edward B. (Red) Lee is one of our most ardent fishermen. He lives on the road to Dr. Dodson's Lake. Red catches shrimp, crabs or any kind of fish. He is a good fly fisherman. Going to Florida soon on a vacation to do nothing but fishing, he said.
